Forecast For West Midlands
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Thursday 23 Sep 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Mostly dry and cloudy, before scattered showers at the weekend.

This Evening and Tonight:
Staying dry through the night, with cloud continuing to break up and clear spells beginning to develop. Some fog patches are likely to develop in the south towards the early hours. A cool night, especially in rural areas. Minimum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Friday:
Fairly cloudy for much of Friday, though some sunny spells may still develop at times. Some patchy light rain may occassionally be seen in the far north of the region. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Scattered showers and sunny spells on Saturday and Sunday, before a band of rain arrives in the early hours of Monday. Scattered showers and sunny spells continuing once this clears.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.